

Contents

List of Contributors	ix
1 Editors' Introduction	1
2 The Roots of Diversity in Pragmatic Thought James Campbell	11
3 The Context of Diversity versus the Problem of Diversity William J. Gavin	25
4 The Genesis of Democratic Norms: Agonistic Pluralism or Experimentalism? Larry A. Hickman	43
5 Cultivating Pragmatist Cosmopolitanism—Democratic Local-and-Global Community amidst Diversity Judith M. Green	55
6 Democracy—Practice as Needed Michael Eldridge	85
7 Dewey and Levinas on Pluralism, the Other, and Democracy Jim Garrison	99
8 Reconstruction of Philosophy and Inquiry into Human Affairs—Deweyan Pragmatism in Dialogue with the Postmodern Sociology of Zygmunt Bauman Stefan Neubert and Kersten Reich	127
9 Diverse Communities—Dewey's Theory of Democracy as a Challenge for Foucault, Bourdieu, and Rorty Kersten Reich	165
10 Concluding Conversation: The Future of Democratic Diversity James Campbell, Michael Eldridge, Jim Garrison, William J. Gavin, Judith M. Green, Larry A. Hickman, Stefan Neubert, Kersten Reich	195
Author Index	229
Subject Index	233