[PC2005 #000]

The title of the abstract can be inserted here – it's centered and bold.

Author*, F.P., Name, T., Anothername, H.Y., *affiliation with Institution, postal address and email@address.com.

In order to save space, only affiliation and e-mail-address of the corresponding author are required (she/he is indicated by a "*"). You are welcome to include one color figure or a table. Please check that the size of the figure is not too large (1–2 Mbyte are usually o.k.). If desired, references [1] can be included. The reference style is similar to that for the LPSC (i.e. numbered style) [2]. For more than 2 authors, "et al." should be used. The width of the abstract is 7.5 cm and the length (height of whole abstract, including title and references) is limited to 12 cm. Abstracts should be submitted as MS-Word documents. LaTeX-users can submit their abstracts either as PS- or PDF-files. If MS-WORD is not available, also RTF-files are accepted (we will provide this template also as RTF-file). The abstracts have to be submitted per email to the address given on the website.

Here is some more space for comments on the current wind direction on mars, which was inferred from data of the Martian's hair cuts.
