

Amelie Bernzen is currently a post-doctoral research fellow and lecturer of economic geography at the Institute of Geography, University of Cologne, Germany. Her PhD dealt with global standards, quality and risk management in organic food imports to Germany and Australia. Her more recent research focuses on socio-economic analyses around land-use change and food security in coastal Bangladesh. She has further been Chair of the Association for Australian Studies since 2014, and is senior researcher at the Global South Studies Centre, Cologne.