

Susanne Braun-Bau is a ministerial referent at the Ministry of Schools and Education North Rhine Westphalia. Her department focuses on politics, the culture of remembrance to form an object of historical and political education in schools as well as Islam and religious education. She is an almost life-long member of the Association for Australian Studies. She published her PH-D thesis on Nature and Psyche – the depiction of landscapes and consciousness in the modern novel of Australia at the University of Wuppertal. Since then her interest has stayed with international cultural and educational policy.
